

Finding Funding

We can help match your funding needs to available funding opportunities – both internal and external.

We identify and publish a list of funding opportunities, maintain a database of limited submission programs and coordinate the selection of Ohio State's nominees to limited submission programs.

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

SPIN Funding Opportunities Database

The SPIN funding opportunities database contains more than 40,000 funding opportunities from more than 10,000 global sponsors. All Ohio State faculty, staff and students may create a SPIN account:

- Create and save customized searches that generate daily email funding alerts
- Organize and share funding announcements with colleagues
- Access an extensive keyword list, allowing for greater flexibility in searching
- Locate all types of funding information (travel grants, fellowships and other sponsored programs)

Visit go.osu.edu/funding for step-by-step instructions.

Limited Submission Opportunities

The Office of Research (OR) maintains a database of limited submission opportunities. In limited submission programs, the sponsor restricts the number of applications or proposals that an institution can submit to the agency. OR internally coordinates the application process to ensure that only the allowable number of proposals are submitted on behalf of the university.
